School Board Forced to Cut Budget $43,000

Members of the Board of Trustees of the Lemon Grove Elementary School District, met on Tuesday of last week and adopted a budget that had been cut from $288,996.00 to $244,201.00, a reduction of nearly $45,000. Some of the essential positions that had to be eliminated were three classroom teachers, a special speech and hearing teacher, a classroom music teacher, half of the secretarial help in the new schools and a custodian.

The fund for pupil supplies was cut nearly in half, and the amounts set up for operation and maintenance were reduced by $3,000 and $1,500 respectively.

When all these amputations were performed, a further reduction of $12,200 was necessary. To accomplish this, the General Reserve was trimmed from $13,000 to $800. This reserve is the money with which a school operates from June 30 (the end of the school year) until September 30, when the first allocation comes from the State. This money was to have financed the summer maintenance program next year and to have purchased the supplies for the following year.

This reserve must be replenished before June 30, 1950. To accomplish that this district will have to vote to exceed the legal tax levy (90c per hundred dollars of assessed valuation.) To that end, the school board passed a tentative resolution calling for such an election to be held early in 1950. The board expressed regret that failure by the State to supply adequate financing would place an additional load on local taxpayers who have been so sincere in their efforts to provide an adequate educational program for the children of this community.

Robbery Attempt at Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church, Central avenue and School lane, was broken into sometime between 10 o'clock Sunday night and 9 o'clock Monday morning, when the church was opened and the attempted burglary discovered. The safe was tampered with and the mechanism broken. For some unknown reason the thieves apparently stopped before they opened the door of the safe. There was said to be $15,000 in non-negotiable bonds in the safe but it contained no cash. The door to the minister's study had been jimmied open and the drawers and other things ransacked. Though nothing was taken the safe was ruined and will have to be replaced.

This is the second time in about five weeks that the Baptist Church has been broken into. The first time a Sunday School class bank was robbed.

FOLKS LIKE TO GO TO FIRES

Joseph Beyer, 2921 Washington street, created quite a bit of excitement on Monday evening when he decided to burn a pile of old lemon trees. Mr. Beyer had the Forestry Department men standing by and everything was under control, but people seeing the smoke and flames from afar didn't know this. It was reported that approximately 50 cars came racing over to either help put the fire out or just to watch. One woman was overheard to ask: "How many houses burned down?"

BIBLE SCHOOL CANCELED

The Board of Religious Education of the First Congregational Church announces that due to conditions beyond its control, it has been decided to have no vacation bible school held at the church this year.

Imperial to be Fixed at North End

Imperial is to be improved so that water during heavy rains will not stand at the intersection of that street and Lester.

The beautification committee of the Business Women's League has purchased pipe to be placed under the railroad tracks in order that water settling at the intersection of Lester and Imperial during rains will be drained off. The pipe was delivered through the courtesy of the American Pipe Co., Frontier and Rosecrans.

With assistance from the county and donations by the merchants and the Women's League, the boulevard will be filled in, graded and oiled from Broadway to North avenue.

HOME FROM TRIP

Mrs. Schuyler Read and daughter, Miss Francis Read, 7895 Mount Vernon street, have returned from a month's vacation trip. They drove to Sequoia, Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, Lawson Crater Lake and visited friends in Tacoma and Seattle Washington. They went to Victoria, B. C., on board one of the ships of the Princess Line. They returned home via the coast route and had a wonderful vacation. Miss Read is instructor in arts and craft in the Lemon Grove School.

WELCOME to New Readers

Still they come! More than 250 new names have been added to the Review list since the new publishers took over the paper. The people of Lemon Grove want a home-published and printed newspaper, otherwise they wouldn't be enrolling on the list in such large numbers. Rudy Galindo, circulation solicitor, is greeted cordially and courteously by the local residents.

Sewers Going in on West Side

The area from Olive street to Massachusetts, north of Broadway to Pearson street, and south of Broadway to within 200 feet of San Miguel, has been formed into a sewer district. The Department of Public Works of San Diego County is now drawing plans for presentation to the Board of Supervisors within a month, according to information given a Review representative this week by Joe Rushind, of the department.

He stated that the department expects to get construction work under way by January 1, 1950.

The area east of Olive is already served by a sewage disposal system.

Register Kiddies for Kindergarten

Parents of children to attend kindergarten in the Lemon Grove Elementary School District are urged to enroll their children as soon as possible. The main office of the school is open every day and enrollment blanks may be obtained at any time for any school in the district.

Thus far only 133 children have been enrolled out of an estimated 220 to attend kindergarten. Until this enrollment is complete, classes cannot be made up or bus schedules planned, nor can the session which each child is to attend, be announced. In the event classes are too large, the last children to register may have to be placed on a waiting list.

Birth certificates are required when enrolling children. If your child was four years old before March 1, 1949, he may be enrolled in the kindergarten.

Wheel Chair Dancers Members of the Indoor Sports Club

Many local people have expressed a desire to know more about the Indoor Sports Club, so ably represented at the Community dance Saturday night, so the following information was obtained by Agnes Ferris Whitlock from the organizer.

The San Diego Indoor Sports Club was organized at a tea party one May afternoon in 1931 in the home of Mrs. Yancey N. Adams, 3516 Sydney place. Starting with a membership of three persons, this organization, in 18 years, has grown to a group of more than 150 and has brought happiness and new interests to hundreds of handicapped people.

The Good Sports' Club came into being at the same time. This group assists the Indoor Sports in getting from place to place and helps them to put on parties.

To complete her idea, Mrs. Adams invited Mrs. Don Horner, Mrs. Guy Roberts and the late Mrs. Wm. Douglass to a tea party 18 years ago. She received her inspiration from a radio broadcast by G. Alison Phelps, of Los Angeles, who in April, 1930, organized the Indoor Sports Club. For more than a year, bedridden with a heart ailment, Mrs. Adams heard the broadcast and upon recovery, invited her friends to the tea. The party marked both Mrs. Douglass and Mrs. Roberts' birthdays, but was devoted to forming plans for the local clubs, which are now among the largest of any similar groups in the United States. The scores of parties, boat trips, picnics and twilight entertainment for the handicapped have attracted hundreds of 'hosts' and 'guests.' The local group also had the distinction of being host to the first Indoor Sports convention in 1937.

Lemon Grove on Radio Program

Lemon Grove will be featured on the "Americans Speak Up" program over KGB at 6:30 p. m. Monday, it was announced today. The program is sponsored each week by the First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego. Samuel B. Pettingill, former congressman from Indiana, constitutional lawyer and lifelong student and upholder of American principles and traditions, will be the guest speaker.

Pettingill will discuss the American system of free enterprise and customer profit, and will cite numerous examples of the benefits that have accrued from individual initiative.

Socialism has failed everywhere, Pettingill believes, and he questions that the American public is willing to accept discredited foreign systems in this country.

The programs are sponsored by the First National Bank as a public interest feature.

Dance at Center Enjoyed by Many

Mrs. Ted Haaf, publicity chairman for the Community Center dance, has contributed the following account of the affair:

A colorful children's parade, led by the Lemon Grove School Band, left the Community Center at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon to parade through the business section, returning to the center for their treats of punch and cookies.

The free movies for the children in the school cafeteria were shown to a capacity crowd, including a few adults.

The moon put on a special performance, giving a warm, pleasant evening, without a hint of cloud or fog.

The Wheel Dancers of the Indoor Sports, Inc., were very well received and their dances greatly appreciated. They received the surprise trophy presented by the Walters' Jewelry Store.

The Lemon Grove Lumber Co. donated $50.00 to help defray the expenses of the evening.

D. C. Zaworski won the prize given by the C. L. Holcomb Cabinet Shop; Velma Goodspeed, the Lemon Grove Hardware Co. prize and Dr. Johnson, the Piggy Wiggy prize. The best waltzers won the Lindley Drug Store prize.

Mrs. Gilbert Durham, chairman, and her committees wish to thank all who helped to make the dance a success.

A final committee meeting will be held Friday night at eight o'clock at the Center auditorium, at which time all committees will make final reports, which will be published next week.

Final Touches Nearing on Community Center

By TED HAAF

The Community Center main building is in the last stages of completion, and at the present rate, Chris Ferguson, chairman of the committee for the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce reports it will be ready for outfitting in a very short time. Only painting, plumbing and sheet metal work is yet to be done.

By the way, no painters have yet responded to the appeal for painting. Can it be possible there are no painters in this community willing to help the Community Center? We think not—so we are looking forward to getting painters to help. Plumbers also would be acceptable to finish the job according to A. E. Donally and any help given will be appreciated by him.

The plastering is arranged for and will be started next Saturday by volunteer plasterers.

Last Saturday, Charles Whitlock, W. A. Thomas, Rev. Dan Apra, R. Nelson and David Apra, all of Lemon Grove, and G. Hadley of La Mesa volunteered and did whatever work was necessary.

Also Monday and Tuesday three local lathers, who desire to remain unknown, generously finished the lathing job in the main building. L. G. Cato has again responded and has done a grand job of electric wiring. Two men were also furnished by Tony Sonka for general work for two days.

Sufficient funds are available to complete the Community Center as at present authorized by the county.

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is most happy to have been able to contribute its services to this project, and hopes the people of the community will assist it in seeing to its successful completion at an early date.

The dance Saturday night was a huge success, thanks to Mrs. Gilbert Durham, who with her committee worked tirelessly for its success.

Five bands already have signified their intentions of furnishing music for the Powwow parade, the latests to join the musical section being the Bonham Boys Band.

Eleven floats have been entered to date, the committee announced yesterday, as have seven marching groups. Many riding clubs of the county are coming for the event. F. J. ## Y's Men Observe Leader Night

The Lemon Grove Y's Men, observed 'Ladies' Night' with a pot luck dinner, movies and a song fest in beautiful Lawson Valley at the Sunbury Ranch with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sunbury as genial host and hostess Tuesday evening. All those who attended say everything good about it... the food was good (and so plentiful,) the movies were good, songs were good, harmony was good, attendance was good... which all went to make up a good time.

Dwight Johnson, sales manager of KFMB, and also a member of the San Diego Y's Men, gave a very interesting talk about television, which was both enlightening and entertaining. He also was a leader in the song fest, his leadership later being supplanted by Wm. Arthur Thomas until the volume and intensity carried the harmony without leadership. Neighbors and friends from as far away as a quarter of a mile sat on their lawns and enjoyed the spontaneous renditions.

The following Y's Men, ladies and friends helped to make the evening such an enjoyable one: Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Porter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Apra, Rev. and Mrs. Dan Apra, and their guest, Mary Apra, of Pasadena Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cass, Mr. and Mrs. Al Denliner, Mr. and Mrs. Art Blomendale, of San Diego Mr. and Mrs. Howard La Shell Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Best, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Toomire, Carl Sunbury, Genevieve Porter and family, with Bill Steel as their guest, and the host and hostess.

ALFHOD VACCINATION AGAINST BRUCELLOSIS

Calfhood vaccination for protection against brucellosis has made considerable progress in the short time the current program has operated, according to F. W. Dorman, assistant farm advisor. In the year and a half since it was created by state law 305,509 calves have been vaccinated on 25,725 ranches.

The law provides that female dairy calves must be vaccinated and female beef calves may be vaccinated at the option of the owner. The vaccination is done by practicing veterinarian without cost to the dairy or beef producers.

This program follows a long-time educational project carried on by the University of California Agricultural Extension Service first studies were started locally in San Pasquel Valley with selected demonstration herds. About 1935, Dr. K. G. McKay, Extension Specialist in veterinary science included calfhood in the project.

Calfhood vaccination proved so successful that a countywide program was developed by the Farm Advisor in co-operation with the county livestock department and the local veterinarians. The project proved the advantage of widespread vaccination to the point where the present law placed the vaccination program under direction of the State Department of Agriculture.

4-H CLUBS PLANNING ANNUAL DAVIS CONVENTION

San Diego county 4-H Clubs are busy making plans to send delegates to the annual convention of California 4H Club members. The conference will be held at the University of California campus at Davis September 1, 2, 3.

Over a thousand 4-H boys and girls will attend this conference from all over the state. They will take part in group discussions, attend demonstrations given by the University faculty members and visit the State Fair at Sacramento. San Diego county's quota for number of delegates is 30, including chaperones. In order to qualify the delegation for participating in the convention it is necessary to have volunteer adult chaperones about one for six or seven club members.

IS FREEZING AT HOME AN ECONOMY?

Have you been wondering whether a home freezer would be practical for your family? Home demonstration agent Delphine D. Wilson, of the University of California Extension Service, says many homemakers have been turning this problem over in their minds of late.

In answer to the many inquiries received by the Extension Service, a new bulletin has just been released which deals thoroughly with the subject of home freezing. Many questions are discussed, such as: "Will it pay me to store frozen food for home use?" "What methods of freezing storage are available to me?" "What size home freezing unit should I buy?"

Mrs. Wilson says one of the most helpful features of the bulletin is the charts which are perforated to be torn out and hung on the wall for easy reference. These charts give the directions for preparing and freezing many different kinds of fruits and vegetables.

The informative pictures and step by step instructions for freezing will also be helpful to those who are trying home freezing for the first time.

Copies of the bulletin, which is entitled "Home Freezing," may be had without charge by writing or calling the local Agricultural Extension Service Office, U. S. Customs House, San Diego.

ORCHARD IRRIGATION IS ESSENTIAL

Irrigation is the most necessary of all orchard operations, Joe Coony of the U. of California Agricultural Extension Service advises growers. Good irrigation practice, he says, consists of keeping the trees well supplied with water at all times. Even short periods of dryness will hamper tree and fruit growth.

In some soils, movement of water downward is restricted by a heavy less permeable layer in the subsoil. Under these conditions, care should be taken not to apply too much water.

Good distribution of water is most important. A system of irrigation should be used that permits even distribution. On land of variable texture and topography, a sprinkler system is quite satisfactory in this regard.

How often to irrigate should be based on the amount of water which can be stored in the soil, and how fast the trees use it. Heavy soils will store more water than lighter, sandier soils. Trees use water at faster rate during spells of hot weather than during moderate or cool periods.

Regardless of the cost of irrigation, Coony says, it pays to use sufficient water for a normal crop. Reducing the water supply below that which is required is not an advisable way to reduce costs. By such action only less profit can normally be expected.

KABOB COOKERY

Barbecued kabobs are natural for outdoor cooking this time of the year. All it takes is a skewer, meat cubes and a fire.

A barbecue pit, fireplace or grill makes cooking out-of-doors easy for the family. Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Delphine D. Wilson, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, says elaborate equipment isn't necessary. You can make a grill from an old wheelbarrow partly filled with sand, and spread with a bed of charcoal. The grate can be an oven rack, or heavy wire screen laid over the top.

The most popular and well-known of the kabobs is shish-kabob. To make shish-kabobs, cut lean sirloin or round steak in one and one-half inch cubes and slices of bacon in squares. Arrange them alternately on long pointed sticks or forks and broil.

Mrs. Wilson suggests trying some of these other kinds of kabobs.

Cut lamb in 1½ inch squares ¾ inch thick, and "tenderized" ham in one inch squares, about 3-8 inch thick. Season the lamb with salt and pepper and alternate with the ham on skewers.

KNOW YOUR WEATHER

Some of the best weather records are kept by trees. By carefully studying tree rings, scientists know what kind of weather prevailed many years before written weather records were started—as far back as 3,000 years in some areas.

Place the meat on the grill and broil for 20 to 25 minutes until done. Turn when brown on one side.

Alternate cubes of tenderized or cooked ham with orange sections or pineapple cubes and broil.

Spread frankfurters, cut in one-inch pieces, with mustard and alternate with quarters of tomatoes.

Dip lamb kabobs in olive oil seasoned with garlic. Baste with oil during the cooking. Dip in finely chopped parsley just before serving.

These are only starters, Mrs. Wilson says. Let your imagination and ingenuity take you from here.

PICKLED PEACHES

Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peaches would have been a more appetizing way for the old nursery rhyme to run, believes Home Demonstration Agent Delphine Wilson of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

She prefers small clings for this recipe which calls for four quarts of peaches. The other ingredients are:

2 pounds (5½ to 6 ups) brown sugar, or 1 pound (2½ cups) white sugar and 1 pound (2½ to 3 cups) brown sugar.

1 quart pickling vinegar
1-3 ounce stick cinnamon, about six pieces, three inches long.

Whole cloves
Clingstone peaches must be dipped in a lye bath until the skins loosen, or peel like an apple with a stainless steel or plastic knife.

Boil the sugar, vinegar and cinnamon together. Stick each peach with four cloves. Prick the fruit thoroughly with a silver or stainless steel fork. Put the peaches into the syrup and cook until soft, using one-half the quantity of peaches at a time. Pack hot in sterilized jars and seal.

Peeled pears and whole apricots may be prepared in the same way.

ANY HOUSEWIFE KNOWS BETTER

Any budget-minded housewife knows that should the family income suffer a cut, some item in the budget, somewhere along the line, would have to be cut correspondingly.

Declining tax receipts have made a serious dent in the federal government's income. But does Uncle Sam, like a sensible householder, propose to cut his expenses to live within his means? Not on your life! Instead, the President, in his message to Congress recently, declared that no slashes would be made in spending for foreign aid, defense or social services in order to avoid deficit financing.

"We cannot expect," the President said, "to achieve a budget surplus in a declining national economy."

An individual who lives beyond his income eventually goes bankrupt. Are governments any different? The experience of the British government wouldn't indicate that they are. Though production is reported to be the highest in history, Britain currently is in the throes of another perennial financial crisis.

The British are working hard, but their socialist government is spending more than they can earn. Committed to a host of grandiose spending schemes, it refuses to cut its cost to live within its means, and the tight little isle is going broke.

Maybe America's experience will be different. Maybe the Administration economists are right: that the sensible way to cope with a falling income is to spend more money, but any budget-minded

Looks like the honeymoon is over. The bipartisan foreign policy is going out the window. The Republicans went along with the President on the Marshall Plan because they felt that if Europe really wanted help, those nations would plan along the lines proposed by the then Secretary of State Marshall, when he said that the European nations should take an inventory of their internal affairs, and set up a plan for recovery, and that the United States would go along with them and render aid to match their efforts. Now it seems that those efforts are lagging, but the administration wants to keep on with the aid as set up by the Congress almost two years ago. The Lord helps those who help themselves, and this is, or should be as true of nations as of individuals. The United States has a limit to its resources and some people think they see the end of these resources, unless a halt is called to this wild spree of spending.

The people of Lemon Grove could do themselves a good turn and at the same time help the local postoffice by buying all of their stamps of F. R. Faucher, the local postmaster. To some people it does not seem to make any difference where they buy their postage stamps, but improved postal service comes from increased business in the local postoffice. If the people of Lemon Grove eventually want to have complete city carrier service, one of the quickest ways to get it is to see that the business of the local postoffice shows a marked increase in each quarterly report. The department at Washington will take note of any great increase and the benefits that will come back to Lemon Grove will be many fold.

If there is any one issue concerning America's merry-go-round economy on which almost all agree, it is that prices are too high. But ask why they are too high and you'll get as many answers as there are political and economic philosophies. Labor claims profits are excessive in most cases. Management sometimes puts the blame on increased wages. The truth of the matter may be that the real cause lies in a different direction. Statistics show that an ordinary package of cigarettes carries 11 cents in tax hidden and direct. The taxes of one sort or another on a new automobile, according to recent estimate, amount to $500. That, not incidentally, is more than half the price of the average low-priced car before the war. The day of the seven cent package of cigarettes may never dawn—in fact, there doesn't seem to be a chance of it. But it seems rather obvious that if labor and management (as well as the rest of us) would take out after high taxes, high prices would take care of themselves, without any effect on wages, salaries and profits.

San Diego county is lame on boulevard stops. The county should place more four-way stops at important intersections. These stops are an aid to traffic in that they permit cross-street traffic to move ahead without undue delay.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT
JAMES DORAIS

By California standards, the adjoining State of Nevada is an impoverished neighbor indeed.

Less people live in Nevada than in Sacramento, California's Capital. In fact, population-wise, the Sage Brush State ranks 48th among all the States—49th if the District of Columbia is included.

And if Hawaii is ever admitted to the Union, poor Nevada would rank 50th.

Though widely known as a mining state, Nevada is rated only in 27th place, against California's spot as third-ranking State in the Union in mineral production. And California's yearly agricultural income is nearly 70 times greater than her eastern neighbor's.

But what Nevada lacks in resources and size, she makes up for in ingenuity.

As the whole country knows Nevada has built up an important industry by the simple process of legalizing games of chance. California may not approve, yet most of the customers at the gaming tables in Reno, "the biggest little city in the world," and the newest tourist trap, Las Vegas are visitors from this side of the State line.

Nevada, too, has developed another industry, more unsavory still in the eyes of neighbors with stricter official moral standards out of quick and easy divorces. It takes only six weeks of residence to become a Nevadan. And a good many wealthy new residents who come to untie the marital knot stay on as permanent residents because there is no income tax in the State of Nevada.

On the theories that people who have money spend it, and where money is being spent prosperity's sure to abound, Nevada believes in offering incentives to people and businesses to locate within its borders. The newest wrinkle is a "free port" law, though Nevada is located some miles from the nearest ocean.

As a "free port," Nevada now exempts from personal property taxation any goods stored in warehouses anywhere within the State. The theory behind the new law is that as the only western State offering such an incentive to business, centrally located Nevada will become the logical distribution center of the West.

If the plan works as Nevada hopes it will, the landscape soon will be dotted by new warehouses built by Eastern manufacturers storing their goods for sale to the Pacific Coast retail market. Manufacturers will effect considerable tax savings, and Nevada will reap benefits from new payrolls and real estate taxes.

California is a great deal bigger than Nevada in every way—it even has a billion-dollar budget. But, as any Nevadan will tell you, mere size isn't everything.

Political Parade

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

The 1950 Congressional elections already are peeping over the political horizon. Two years later the presidency once again will be at stake along with additional seats on Capitol Hill. And during the course of the balloting—in 1950 and 1952—one of the most fundamental decisions will face the American people since the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

At issue, in all probability, will be the Welfare State vs. American Free Enterprise.

At issue will be the question of whether the Nation's electorate will cast votes for candidates espousing "security" and socialism such as has driven England on the rocks of economic chaos or whether the voting will favor an end to the trend toward omnipotent government.

The candidates elected to office in 1950 and 1952 unquestionably will be the ones to accept or reject the Welfare State. When America goes to the polls, this fact should transcend all party differences.

For the Welfare State—as proposed in this country, and as practiced amidst the economic debacle that was once Europe—means the regimentation of the citizenry from before birth to death. It means that everyone must be a cog in the government scheme of things. Everyone must give in exorbitant taxes to that all-powerful government the wherewithal for it to direct their every living minute, as it sees fit.

The measures to hold a Welfare State are partly before Congress today. In the years 1950-52, most analysts of Washington are of the opinion that the entire program will be laid out before the country's lawmakers.

The Brannan Pie-in-the-Sky Farm Subsidy Plan is geared to the Welfare State. It guarantees high prices to farmers, low prices to consumers, and a crushing tax burden on all to support it.

Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing's night-marish scheme of compulsory sickness insurance is another integral portion of the Welfare panacea. It simply guarantees another whopping payroll tax while benefits are neither specified nor guaranteed.

The Welfare State means deficit financing as against the government living within its income.

The Welfare State visualizes the nationalization of all industry and professions. It is predicated on government employees and political appointees telling people how to run their business and where to work.

It is almost certain that America must vote on the Welfare State vs. Free Enterprise issue—and the decision will be made in the immediate future. So long as the issues are clearly defined, there should be little question of the outcome. The Nation has gained the highest standards of living in the world under Free Enterprise. The rest of the world is mainly floundering in socialism.

Local Teacher Ill in Valley Sanitarium

One of Lemon Grove's most popular teachers, Mrs. Carl Rafferty, is critically ill in the Paradise Valley Sanitarium. She has had a series of blood transfusions and is in an oxygen tent.

Because of the short supply of blood at the blood bank, the Review has been asked to appeal to the teachers and other friends of Mrs. Rafferty, who are able to do so, to go to the Blood Bank at 769 India street, San Diego, and give blood.

Mrs. Rafferty was a kindergarten teacher in the Lemon Grove school for many years, last year being transferred to the Vista La Mesa school.

FIRST MEETING IN 32 YEARS

Herman Domke of San Miguel avenue has just returned from a month's vacation trip to Edmonton, Canada, where he visited his brother, Adolf Domke, whom he hadn't seen for 32 years. He enjoyed his visit very much and he says there were lots of parties and dinners which kept him on the go. He was glad to get back to sunny California, however, as it rained every day that he was there. In the three weeks' period there was nine inches of rain.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO MEET

The Business Woman's League will meet at luncheon at 12:30 on Thursday at Friendship Hall. Members who expect to attend are requested to make reservations early with Mrs. George Dickinson, H6-3541.

Christian Church Selects Leaders

The executive board of Vista La Mesa Christian Church recently appointed the following committee members for the fiscal year:

Stewardship—Dale M. Mc Coy, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Helms, Harold Haskins, and Mr. and Mrs. James Wall.
Christian Education—Randolph W. Sternberg, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Paul.

House and Grounds—Gilbert Durham, chairman; Mrs. Gilbert Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. McIntosh.

Worship—R. R. Huffman, chairman; Mrs. H. R. Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shadinger, Mr. and Mrs. Bartley Goggen-sack.

Each committee met during July to organize and start the business for the year and will meet together in the church on the fourth Thursday evening of the month for further planning.

The Christian Youth Fellowship Council has supervised the organization of a Chi Rho Fellowship (Junior High) with James Conlee as counselor, and is organizing a Young Adult Fellowship for college age and young professional people. These three groups—Junior High, High School and older young people meet for worship each Sunday morning at 9:30 for church school classes at 10:45 and for discussion groups each Sunday evening at 6:30.

The youth organist, Frances Kerns, is playing for the adult worship services during August, with Paul Myers directing the choir.

FIRE TOO NEAR!

Three crews from the La Mesa Forestry Station halted a grass fire in Monterey Heights Monday. The fire was said to have been started by children playing with matches. The blaze had blackened 50 acres of barley fields and grass before it was brought under control. Homes of residents on Skyline and Drexel drives would have been in danger if the wind had changed. The blaze was just one out of five in the county that kept the firemen busy on Monday.

HELP PREVENT FIRE!

A member of the Forestry Service stated that all indications pointed to illegal burning as the cause of the blaze that swept over a hillside above San Miguel avenue on Wednesday, leaving about five acres blackened. The fire started behind a house on San Miguel and spread rapidly because of the high wind and the dry brush covering the hills. It could have caused untold damage to surrounding homes if help had not arrived in time.

Joseph Rayman Died Here Friday

Joseph Rayman, a long time resident of Lemon Grove, passed away at his home, 2912 New Jersey street, on Friday morning, following a long illness. Born on March 25, 1862, in Czechoslovakia, he came to America with his father in 1870, at the age of seven years. His father died a short time after their arrival in this country so he was left practically an orphan, his mother having remained in Czechoslovakia.

Mr. Rayman spent most of his life as a rancher in Nebraska. He and his wife came to Lemon Grove in 1923. He was a quiet unassuming person, a good neighbor and friend and a devoted husband and father.

He leaves his wife, Francis, of Lemon Grove; two sons, R. L. Rayman of San Diego and Joe E. of Omaha, Nebr.; three daughters, Mrs. Louis Kabes, of Clarkson, Nebr., Mrs. Emil Sindelar, of Omaha, and Mrs. Joe E. Hajek of Norfolk Nebraska.

Services were held on Monday at 10:00 a. m. in the Lewis Colonial Chapel. Interment will be in Clarkson, Nebraska.

ACTIVITIES
in and Around Lemon Grove

By MARGE ELLISON

A very large attendance of enthusiastic people attended the regular meeting of the San Diego Horsemen's Association held at Grossmont High School Monday evening. Starting promptly at 8 o'clock, Jack Schrade, of El Cajon, was introduced as the new Regional vice president of the California State Horsemen's Association. It was Mr. Schrade's first attendance at one of the San Diego County Horsemen's meetings and his first step was to apply for membership for both himself and Mrs. Schrade. He was amazed at the rapid growth of the organization, which is gaining members at the rate of 100 per month. There were horsemen everywhere, so Jack had truly an appreciative audience who listened to his report of the good work being done by the California State Association from its headquarters in Sacramento. It is a powerful organization with the majority of riding clubs in the State enrolled as members. The local County group is applying for membership with the State which should do much to strengthen the equestrian cause and establish a solid foundation in this county.

Among business matters taken up was the petition to the Board of County Supervisors to re-open the hearing on condemnation of certain non-existent roads appearing on the map only thru the Otay Ranch, for purposes of building the State Riding Trail through this area, to connect from the Mexican border through to Cuyamaca Lake. Hearty response was evidenced as the petition overflowed with signatures.

Invitations were received for the San Diego County Horsemen to participate in numerous current events, particularly to enter a color guard in the parade of the St. Mary's All Western Days at El Cajon. That was the nucleus of an idea for the association to form a parade unit, and Walter H. Gebheim, of Encanto, president of the Iona Horse Club, volunteered to assist in making banners, etc. This can lead to great things, as the material is definitely there, among the large group of horsemen, for an outstanding parade group. Who knows by the time the September meeting rolls around, but that the San Diego County Horsemen's Association may have several trophies to its credit. One thing sure, the "Summer Droop" hasn't hit the horsemen!

The Fifth Annual Free Horse Show last Sunday at the Fanita Ranch in Santee was just as interesting and full of entertainment as could be. C. M. Tyner did a swell job of announcing and the Judge, Ralph Walker, worked harder than the contestants, making sure he saw everything. There were 18 scheduled events and several side exhibitions, lasting until 6:00 p. m.

The Elks Lodge, 1637, of Escondido, and the Escondido Valley Riders staged their second annual Barbeque and Horse Opera at the Escondido Valley Riders' field Sunday. About 60 members of the Empty Saddle Club of Redondo Beach were guests of the Escondido Valley Riders for the occasion, trailering 22 horses from Redondo. Also, the Rock 'N Ride Riders of El Cajon were guests of the Elks. Both clubs were entertained at a dance at the Arcade Hall on Saturday night. Supper and breakfast were served to the two visiting clubs by the Escondido Valley Riders at the field. That's real hospitality!

The judge of the horse show on Sunday was Frank 'Mac' McHugh and the announcer, Cecil Morgan. Award for the best mounted group was presented to the Rock 'N Ride Riders, with the Vista-Palomar Riders second and the Valley Center Renegades, third. The Empty Saddle Club from Redondo Beach received a special award. The Rock 'N Ride gave a fine exhibition of precision riding in a drill, which was much appreciated by the audience as demonstrated by the applause.

Among the winners in the Blue Ribbon exhibition class was 'Golden Boss', owned and exhibited by Dr. Carleton Williams of La Mesa.

Another event of importance was the fine show put on Sunday by the Mission Valley Improvement Club, at the Polo Grounds, with one of our Lemon Grove horsemen taking a full share of awards—Frank Bettencourt took first in Best Dressed Western, 1st in Western Pleasure Horse, 1st in Pintos under Saddle and 4th in Parade Horse. Also 4th in Trail Horse, all with his beautiful pinto mare, 'Dame of Fortune'. Then he came right back with Napoleon Knight, his prize Palomino, and took second award in Palominos under Saddle.

This coming week end gives horsemen another wide choice of entertainment—starting with the Western Dance given by the Convair Riders at the American Legion Hall in La Mesa. They cordially invite their friends and fellow riders; along with buttons and bows and calicos — wear a smile, above all.

Then there is the Pine Valley Horse Show, with a big do-in' on Saturday night, consisting of weenie roast, square dance, camping out. On Sunday, is the day of their big show, with plenty of interesting classes, beautiful awards and contestants from San Diego County, Imperial Valley and Arizona. Sounds like it's well worth the trip.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minerva Morris.
